

Hello,

I am writing to complain about Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election.

Since Sinclair is using the public airwaves free of charge, it is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But by deciding to only air a right-wing anti-Kerry documentary (without providing for a balanced response from Democrats), Sinclair is not serving or representing the best interests of its whole viewing audience.

As a result, Sinclair is effectively using the public airwaves during a crucial election year to unfairly attack John Kerry without giving him equal time to defend himself. This is truly partisan politics at its worst.

If Sinclair should happen to air the anti-Kerry documentary, Sinclair should be held accountable by the FEC and FCC for thumbing its nose at basic community standards and for shirking its most fundamental duty, that of providing access to crucial and balanced information over the public airwaves, especially during an election year.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your reply.
